Recombo provides content integration for Training Partner Learning Management System customers.

The partnership between Recombo and GeoMetrix delivers better, faster and more reliable Content Integration solutions for Training Partner Customers.

Vancouver, BC Canada - Recombo, the leading provider of Content Integration solutions, delivers quality content packaging solutions for Training Partner LMS customers.

GeoMetrix Data Systems Inc., producer of Training Partner, recently referred a Fortune 2000 company to Recombo for a content integration solution. The company, the world's leading supplier of process control solutions for the semiconductor industry, uses Training Partner to manage its award winning education programs. When they needed to ensure their content tracked and messaged correctly so the results could be evaluated and responded to, Recombo stepped in as Content Integration specialist.

"We've worked on courseware integration with many different customers and publishers, but Recombo's customer-focused approach seemed the best solution for guaranteed results. The partnership with Recombo enables us to concentrate on building the best learning management products and services we can, and leave content to the experts." said Justin Hearn, President of GeoMetrix.

Partnered with GeoMetrix, Recombo will be working with a sizeable customer-install base with literally millions of learners. Training Partner customers will now enjoy a guaranteed quality solution to getting learning content working flawlessly on the Training Partner platform regardless of the original authoring software or the storage location of the content. Recombo technology and solutions make it possible for Fortune 2000 customers to get content where they need it, when they need it.

"Recombo's LMS partners know to turn to us when they need expertise with Content Integration because our Account Managers will treat our LMS customer's well and get the job done right," said Brad McPhee VP Customer Solutions of Recombo. "I am really pleased we have demonstrated quality solutions to the customers of our LMS channel partners in order to solve real problems in the marketplace."
