Training Partner Makes Brandon-Hall.com Low-cost LMS List for Second Year

Victoria, BC, January 11, 2005: Training Partner 2003 from GeoMetrix Data Systems has been included as one of 17 low-cost options in brandon-hall.com's latest Low-Cost Learning Management Systems report.

This report is based on industry analyst brandon-hall.com's current LMS research: LMS KnowledgeBase: In-Depth Profiles of 55 Learning Management Systems. The staff of brandon-hall.com selected 17 systems from this study that consistently rate lower than average in price across small, medium, large, and very large implementations.

"This is the second year that Brandon-hall.com has published a low-cost LMS report — and Training Partner has been included both times," said Justin Hearn, President of GeoMetrix Data Systems Inc. "Training Partner is one of the most cost-effective learning management solutions on the market today and continues to receive great reviews throughout the industry."

Brandon-hall.com staff noted in the report that, "Training Partner is suited for any organization that is looking to manage classroom or blended learning... With its e-commerce features, Training Partner works well in commercial and educational environments or for content resellers."

Comments from brandon-hall.com staff about Training Partner for the LMS KnowledgeBase 2005 include, "We like that different departments can have their own portal with their own look and feel, features, and language... We really liked how you can drill down on the Quick Reports to view the data you are interested in... We also like the drag-and-drop functionality... "
